MEMORY BIBLIOGRAPHY 1961-1964

PREFACE

This bibliography came into being as a working tool for NRP staff members, who wanted a convenient list of recent articles concerning memory. Accordingly, a compilation was made of all entries listed under the heading "memory" in the issues of Index Medicus* for January 1961 through December 1964 (later extended through February 1965).

The 430 entries are arranged alphabetically by first author. Each author's entries are in chronological order, with the most recent first. Co-authors are cross-indexed when their names appear in the Index Medicus entry.

To help the reader find articles relevant to particular approaches to the problem of memory, each entry has been assigned a code letter representing one of four broad categories: A = psychology, psychiatry; B = physiology, neurology; C = biochemistry, pharmacology; and D = cybernetics, general, or unclassifiable. These code assignments are to be taken as rough guides, since they are based only on the cited titles and journals and many articles cross the boundaries of the classification system.

Keeping in mind the original purpose of this bibliography, the NRP staff hopes that it will save readers some time and call attention to papers that might otherwise have escaped notice in the normal course of literature scanning. In addition, the staff recommends Index Medicus as a valuable reference source to non-medical investigators who may not be familiar with the unique breadth and depth of its coverage of both foreign and domestic publications. -- AHR
